Surgical Consultation Note

Date: 2026-09-08. Patient: Robert Hayes, age 54, male.

History

Mr. Hayes requests weight loss surgery. He has gained about 60 lb over 10 years. He has tried many diets over the years, including a commercial program for a few weeks and a ketogenic diet for about two months, with regain each time. No dietitian or physician supervised these attempts and the patient has no records of them.

Comorbidities: prediabetes (A1c 6.0% last spring), hypertension that is currently well controlled on one medication, and 'borderline' sleep apnea by symptoms, no sleep study on file. Mild knee pain.

Medications: amlodipine 5 mg daily, sertraline 100 mg daily.

Measurements

Height 69 in. Weight 249 lb. BMI 36.8 kg/m² (clinic scale).

Plan

Laparoscopic sleeve gastrectomy. If weight regain occurs, the sleeve may be converted later to a gastric bypass or a duodenal switch. The sleeve is the first stage of that plan.

Dr. Paul Whitman, MD, General and Bariatric Surgery.

Primary Care Visit Note

Date: 2026-09-29. Physician: Dr. Janet Morris, MD.

Visit for blood pressure follow-up. Weight today 233 lb, height 69 in, BMI 34.4 kg/m². Patient reports he has been 'cutting back' since seeing the surgeon.

Blood pressure 128/80 on amlodipine 5 mg. Hemoglobin A1c 6.0%. Fasting glucose 108. No diagnosis of diabetes.

Mental health: history of major depressive disorder, currently stable on sertraline 100 mg. He was seen by a psychiatrist 4 years ago. No recent mental health evaluation. Referral for a pre-surgical psychological evaluation was placed on 2026-09-29, appointment not yet scheduled.

Tobacco: stopped smoking 5 months ago after 20 years. Alcohol: 2 to 3 drinks per week.

Patient Questionnaire - Weight History

Completed by the patient on 2026-09-08.
